Why to bring Dutch attention to Mekong Delta ?

- The Mekong Delta is a region severely under treat of climate change
- This requires adaptation through sustainable agriculture and water management
- The Netherlands and Vietnam have an intensive cooperation in these fields bringing in Netherlands expertise and business.
- Strategic Delta Plan for an agricultural transformation towards sustainable value chain development.
- This also requires innovative agro-water solutions.
- This agricultural development model also requires logistics, transport, renewable energy and a more circular way of practice.
